Russian invaders have damaged or destroyed over 2,500 medical infrastructure facilities across Ukraine.

The Ukrainian Health Ministry said this in a statement seen by Ukrinform.

"As of November 3, 2025, according to information provided by the regional and Kyiv city military administrations' health departments, damage or destruction has been confirmed to 2,530 facilities within 815 healthcare institutions. In particular, 327 facilities belonging to 125 healthcare institutions have been completely destroyed as a result of enemy actions," the statement reads.

The greatest damage has been recorded in medical facilities located in the Donetsk, Kharkiv, Dnipropetrovsk, Kherson, Zaporizhzhia, and Luhansk regions.

Despite daily threats and the challenging security situation, the restoration process continues, the ministry said. As of November 2025, 700 facilities have been fully restored, while another 320 are undergoing partial reconstruction. Fifty-seven facilities that had previously been repaired have sustained new damage from repeated enemy attacks.

Currently, 1,528 medical facilities are providing full-scale medical services, 186 are partially operational, and 231 healthcare institutions have been relocated to other premises.

Data on facilities located in temporarily occupied territories remain limited due to the inability to verify the extent of destruction.

In the Donetsk region, the counterintelligence of the Security Service of Ukraine detained a Russian agent who, acting on the instructions of the Federal Security Service of the Russian Federation, was coordinating aviation and artillery strikes on Kramatorsk.

According to Ukrinform, this was reported by the SSU.

The investigation established that the enemy accomplice was a 32-year-old drug addict who had called on Russians via Telegram channels to seize Kramatorsk.

After receiving instructions from the FSB, the suspect began tracking the locations of reserve command posts and checkpoints of Ukrainian defenders.

In addition, the perpetrator monitored the routes of Defence Forces columns moving toward the front line. To collect coordinates, he conducted daily reconnaissance trips through the frontline area, recording the necessary geolocations on his smartphone. He then transmitted this information to an FSB officer, whose identity has already been established by the SSU.

Counterintelligence officers documented the agent's reconnaissance activity step by step and detained him at his place of residence.

Simultaneously, special measures were taken to secure the positions and movement routes of the Defence Forces.

During searches, the agent's mobile phone containing evidence of cooperation with the Russian special service was seized.

SSU investigators notified the detainee of suspicion under Part 2 of Article 111 of the Criminal Code of Ukraine (state treason committed under martial law).

The offender is being held in custody without the right to bail. He faces life imprisonment with confiscation of property.

As Ukrinform reported earlier, the SSU detained another FSB agent who had been adjusting Russian strikes on Kyiv's energy infrastructure.
